Nothing unusual about Metro rates

It is no surprise that Metro's rates are among the highest in the region, but many are in the "middle" of the range, and the city is a "middle" of the range, and the city is a "middle" of the range.

Poll canvassers exempt from gun ban

By Journalism

THE COMMISSION on Elections gave an exemption to the members of the Philippine Commission on Elections (COMELEC) from the ban on carrying firearms in public places.

The exemption was granted after the COMELEC members requested for it from the Department of Justice (DOJ) and the Department of Interior and Local Government (DILG).

The COMELEC members are exempted from the ban because they are considered as "public officers" under the law.

Naia terminals to have centralized security system

MANILA, July 10 (PNA) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is planning to install a centralized security system for its terminals at the Ninoy Aquino International Airport (NAIA) to prevent unauthorized access to sensitive information.

The system, which is being developed by a consortium of local and foreign firms, will allow NASA to monitor and control access to its terminals from a central location. The system will also allow NASA to track the movement of personnel and equipment within the terminals.

The system is expected to be completed by the end of the year. Once installed, it will significantly enhance the security of NASA's operations at NAIA.

City mayors launch campaign vs bets behind cityhood bills

By Sharon P. Reyes

MANILA, July 6 — City mayors across the Philippines have launched a campaign against the bets behind cityhood bills, arguing that the bills are designed to benefit a small group of politicians and their families.

The campaign, which is being led by the Philippine Mayors' Association (PMA), is aimed at convincing the public that the bills are not in the best interests of the people.

The PMA has filed a petition with the Supreme Court asking for the bills to be declared unconstitutional. It argues that the bills are designed to benefit a small group of politicians and their families, and that they are not in the best interests of the people.

The bills, which are being pushed by the Department of Interior, would allow cities to become independent cities. This would give them more autonomy and control over their own affairs.

However, the PMA argues that the bills are designed to benefit a small group of politicians and their families. It says that the bills would allow them to control the city's budget and to appoint and dismiss city officials at will.

The PMA also argues that the bills would allow them to control the city's land and to sell it at a discount to their families. It says that this would be a clear conflict of interest.

The campaign is being supported by a number of other groups, including the Philippine Bar Association and the Philippine Journalists Association. They are all arguing that the bills are not in the best interests of the people.

The bills, which are being pushed by the Department of Interior, would allow cities to become independent cities. This would give them more autonomy and control over their own affairs.

However, the PMA argues that the bills are designed to benefit a small group of politicians and their families. It says that the bills would allow them to control the city's budget and to appoint and dismiss city officials at will.

The PMA also argues that the bills would allow them to control the city's land and to sell it at a discount to their families. It says that this would be a clear conflict of interest.

The campaign is being supported by a number of other groups, including the Philippine Bar Association and the Philippine Journalists Association. They are all arguing that the bills are not in the best interests of the people.

After ban on aerial spraying, Davao City to go organic

Davao City, the first city in the Philippines to ban aerial spraying of pesticides, is now planning to go organic.

The city government has announced that it will start a program to encourage farmers to use organic pesticides. This will involve providing them with information and training on how to use organic pesticides.

The city government also plans to start a program to encourage consumers to buy organic products. This will involve setting up organic markets and promoting organic products in existing markets.

The city government hopes that these programs will help to reduce the use of pesticides and to improve the health of the people.

You can be in danger of developing cervical cancer caused by a virus.
Help G.U.A.R.D. yourself

Gather information. Millions of young women may have a virus they don't even know about. It's called Human Papillomavirus (HPV) and certain types can cause cervical cancer. Find out more. Call hotline numbers 1-800-368-1000 or visit www.guard.org for inquiries.

Understand the risks for acquiring the HPV infection that can lead to cervical cancer and be in a better position to guard against it.

Acknowledge the truth. In the Philippines, according to the Philippine Cancer Facts and Estimates published by the Philippine Cancer Society, Inc., cervical cancer was the second leading cause of cancer death in women in 2004 - 2005. 27,700 new cases and 8,100 deaths due to cervical cancer were estimated to have occurred. Approximately 10 Filipino women die each day due to cervical cancer.

Reach out to other women. You can help prevent the development of cervical cancer or better yet help protect others by spreading this information.

Discuss prevention. Your Ob/Gynecologist or your daughter's Pediatrician can discuss ways to help prevent cervical cancer. By knowing, you can help protect yourself and your daughter from cervical cancer.

Ilocos Norte awaits decision of Marcoses

By Gilda A. Balle

WHAT WILL BE THE DECISION OF THE MARCOSES ON THE ILOCOS NORTHERN PROPOSAL TO RE-ORGANIZE THE PROVINCE INTO TWO?

The Ilocos Norte Provincial Board, which has been studying the proposal since it was first introduced in 1976, is expected to make a recommendation to the Marcoses by the end of the year.

The proposal, which was first introduced by the late Governor Juanito Salas, calls for the division of Ilocos Norte into two provinces: Ilocos Norte Proper and Ilocos Norte Extension.

The extension would include the municipalities of Burgos, Bata, and San Carlos, which are currently part of Ilocos Norte Proper.

The proposal has been met with mixed reactions. Some people support it, while others oppose it.

Those who support it believe that the extension would be more efficient and would allow for better development of the area.

Those who oppose it believe that the extension would be a waste of money and would not bring any real benefits to the area.

The decision of the Marcoses will be a significant one for the people of Ilocos Norte.

They will be waiting to see what the Marcoses decide to do.

The proposal has been a topic of discussion for many years now.

It has been a controversial issue, but it is one that the people of Ilocos Norte are interested in.

The decision of the Marcoses will be a final one on this issue.

The people of Ilocos Norte are hoping for a positive decision.

Court stops
Smith's burial in Bahamas

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — A Bahamian court has ordered the removal of a body from a cemetery and the suspension of a burial service for a man who was accused of murdering a woman.

The court's decision came after a woman's family filed a lawsuit to stop the burial of a man who was accused of murdering her. The woman's family claimed that the man was a known criminal and that the burial would be a disgrace to the family.

The court ruled in favor of the woman's family, ordering the removal of the body from the cemetery and the suspension of the burial service. The court also ordered the man's family to pay the costs of the lawsuit.

Iraq VP survives assassination try

BAHRA, Bahrain (AP) — A senior Iraqi official survived an assassination attempt in Bahrain on Tuesday, but the attack left him with serious injuries.

The official, who was traveling to Bahrain to meet with the Bahraini prime minister, was shot in the chest and arm by a gunman who fired from a car. The gunman was killed by Bahraini security forces.

The official was taken to a hospital in Bahrain, where he is receiving treatment. He is expected to survive, but his injuries are serious.

The diagram illustrates the experimental setup. A participant is seated at a table, looking at a video screen. On the screen, there is a starting point (a large circle) and a target (a small circle). The distance between them is labeled 'Distance'. The participant's hand is positioned at the starting point and is labeled 'Hand'.

Net foreign buying of stocks up 264%

Net foreign buying of stocks in the first quarter of 2000 was up 264% from the same period last year, according to data released by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

The data shows that net foreign buying of stocks in the first quarter of 2000 was $1.1 billion, compared with $340 million in the first quarter of 1999. This represents a 264% increase.

The increase in net foreign buying of stocks is attributed to a number of factors, including a rise in foreign institutional investment and a decline in foreign individual investment.

The data also shows that net foreign buying of stocks in the first quarter of 2000 was up 100% from the same period last year. This represents a 100% increase.

After the 1991 election, the new government of the Republic of Serbia, led by Slobodan Milosevic, began a process of restructuring the country's political and economic system. This process was marked by a series of reforms, including the introduction of a new constitution in 1994, which established a more democratic framework for the government. The reforms also included the restructuring of the judiciary and the introduction of a new electoral system. These changes were aimed at creating a more transparent and accountable government, and at promoting economic growth and social stability. The process of reform was not without challenges, but it was a significant step towards a more democratic and prosperous Serbia.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.

Figure 1 is a 3D bar chart illustrating the distribution of the number of children per family (x-axis, 0 to 5) across different levels of education (y-axis, 1 to 5). The z-axis represents the percentage of the population (0% to 100%). The chart shows that as the level of education increases, the percentage of families with 0 children increases, while the percentage of families with 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 children decreases.
